Free Educational Cinema Screenings

Taking part in film activities at the cinema shows how students can learn in a different environment as well as fulfilling a range of curriculum objectives.

Benefits of taking your students to the cinema:

Discussion, communication and social skills

Watching, discussing and reviewing films seen at the cinema can provide memorable experiences to support literacy, help students to feel more confident expressing their opinions as well as improve their imagination and creative skills.

"The experience of visiting the cinema as a class, stimulated a discussion about the film, how films are made and the effect they have on us. This is an exciting departure from our usual English teaching."
Karen, Teacher

Topic learning

Films can support a multitude of subjects and themes to inspire discussion and continued learning back in the classroom. Special events such as our Q&A sessions and panels, are great opportunities for students to engage with and learn from industry professionals first hand.

"The links to resources/follow up work are excellent so the actual film can be the nucleus of lots of exciting work."
Margarita Acklam, Teacher

Social, Moral, Spiritual and Cultural (SMSC) development

Film increases cultural awareness, broadens horizons and supports SMSC and language learning.

"As a teacher of French and Spanish, I know how important these experiences are for students and how much they contribute to their language learning as well as cultural understanding."
Kirsten Gregory, Teacher

Accessibility

Film is an accessible medium and visiting the cinema can offer an inclusive social activity for young people.

"This has been an amazingly valuable experience for students at our school to experience a cinema environment and discuss/review the films in their classes"
Mrs Smith, Teacher
